Theme: Advancing Aging: Innovations and Insights in Geriatric Care

May 11-13, 2026 | Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Maria Covadonga
Vázquez Sánchez

Spain

Dr. María Covadonga Vázquez-Sánchez is an Assistant Lecturer in Optometry at the University of Santiago de Compostela (Spain). She holds a Doctorate in Vision Sciences from the same university. Her research focuses on the study of visual and auditory dysfunctions in the elderly, with a particular emphasis on dual sensory loss. She has published several articles on this topic and presented papers at international scientific conferences. Currently, she conducts her research in nursing homes and institutions that provide comprehensive and specialized care for elderly individuals with dementia. She has also coordinated several educational innovation projects in service-learning, aimed at delivering visual and auditory care services to highly vulnerable elderly populations.

Guido Sireci
Italy

Dr. Guido Sireci, born on September 19, 1957, is a distinguished immunologist and academic. He served at the University Hospital of Palermo from 1986 until 2024, contributing significantly to the fields of immunology and general pathology. Over the course of his career, Dr. Sireci published 110 scientific papers and achieved an H-index of 35, reflecting the impactful nature of his research.
