Previous Conference 2024

The International Conference on Green Energy, Earth, and Environmental Science, organized by Mindspace Conferences, was successfully held on November 18, 2024, at the Novotel Amsterdam Schiphol Airport, Netherlands.

The event brought together global experts to discuss advancements in green energy, earth sciences, and sustainability. With keynote speeches, panel discussions, and technical sessions, key topics included renewable energy, climate change mitigation, and environmental protection. An exhibition showcased cutting-edge innovations, while attendees networked and explored collaborations.

The conference was a great success, fostering knowledge exchange and inspiring new initiatives to advance global sustainability efforts.
